William Webber of Gilson Ave., president of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation, and Mrs. Delores Hopper of LaCroft, chairman of the East Liverpool house-to-house canvass for the Dollars For Scholars campaign, today announced plans are set for the Sunday solicitation in East Liverpool and five other area school districts.

The campaign marks the fourth year the Area Citizens Scholarship Foundation has conducted the drive, which has grown to include East Liverpool, Wellsville, Beaver Local, South Side, Western Beaver, Midland and northern Hancock County.

In 1965, $21,000 was raised to assist 73 students.

Mrs. Dolores Watson Hopper is serving as general chairman of the solicitation in the East Liverpool area Sunday.

At Board Meeting Monday
Committee Will Ask Levy For Teachers' Pay Boost

A delegation from the city's Citizens for Better Schools Committee is scheduled to recommend a proposed levy for teachers' salaries to the Board of Education Monday night.

Some 30 members of the committee at a meeting at Westgate School Thursday afternoon agreed to seek action on a levy in order to meet a critical teacher shortage problem blamed on the low salary scale in the district.

H. Jud English of Radio Heights, chairman, was in charge of a discussion of the financial need following a talk by Supt. Paul Blair.

Blair said he has received notice from some 21 instructors that they are retiring or leaving at the end of the current term.

The superintendent added that 30 faculty members left the district last year because of the salary situation he said is not competitive with schedules elsewhere.

Blair pointed out the starting salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree is $4,500 and the majority of salaries elsewhere in the immediate area and throughout Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania is higher.

Ohio school regulations will require a $5,000 salary for a teacher with a master's degree — a position which East Liverpool is now providing a starting salary of $4,700.

"I ask your help," Blair told the committee.

"I cannot get well - qualified people to teach our boys and girls if I cannot offer them salaries comparable to other districts."

He said a teacher with a master's degree can get as much as $1,100 more by transferring to the Salem School District.

Blair plans to interview prospective teachers at Salem (W. Va.) College today and he said he was advised this week only four students indicated any interest whatsoever in East Liverpool.

He said Fairmont Teachers College answered his request for interviews by stating that its 51 elementary education students were taking "War On Poverty" positions in schools in southern West Virginia at starting salaries of $5,000.

Compromise Plan Approved By 45-3; Now Goes To House

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate today completed action on a compromise plan for reapportioning Pennsylvania's 27 congressional districts, sending the measure to the House on a vote of 45-3.

Passage was anti-climactic after a long struggle Thursday night and early today which resulted in four amendments to the hastily-drawn plan that is designed to meet the equal population provisions of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Prior to the final vote, the Senate knocked down another amendment proposal by Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker, R-Franklin.

He proposed that Juniata and Perry counties be taken out of the proposed 12th District which would have a population of 482,000 and added to the 19th District which would have 415,000 persons. He argued that the move would equalize the populations of the two districts, but his amendment failed, 4-44.

Despite the amendments, the bill still can meet the Monday target for final passage set by Republican and Democratic leaders of both houses.

The measure goes to the House which called a 4 p.m. meeting today to give it the first of three required readings on separate days. The House planned to meet again at 12:01 a.m. Saturday for the second reading. That would put the plan in position for final vote on Monday.

Casting negative votes in the Senate were Sens. Z. H. Conair, R-Lycoming; D. Emmert Brumbaugh, R-Blair; and Wilmont E. Fleming, R-Montgomery.

The Senate adjourned until March 7 after the vote.

The Republican - controlled Senate advanced the compromise bill into position for a final vote at about 1 a.m. today. (Turn to REAPPORTION, Pg. 3)

Tokyo Plane
Crash Takes Heavy Toll

Canadian Jetliner Carried Over 70; Only 6 Or 7 Alive

TOKYO (AP) — A Canadian Pacific Airways jetliner with more than 70 persons aboard crash-landed on Tokyo's fog-bound airport tonight and no more than six or seven are reported to have survived.

Japan Broadcasting reporters at the scene said it appeared only six lived through the crash. They said 20 bodies were recovered and another 44 were believed trapped in the wreckage. One of seven persons taken to a hospital died, officials reported.

In Vancouver, a Canadian Pacific Airways spokesman said its reports indicated there were six or seven survivors.

The four-engine Douglas DC8 carried 62 passengers and nine crewmen, officials here reported. But in Hong Kong, the plane's departure point, Canadian Pacific said its information indicated there were 64 passengers and 10 crewmen.

The shattered, smoking wreckage was scattered for more than 1,000 yards down the runway, into a retaining wall and over it. Reports at the scene said at least 30 passengers were hurled into the rear of the plane by the violent impact.

Rescue workers had difficulty penetrating the main part of the fuselage to get at the bodies.

It was the second major air crash at Tokyo's International Airport in a month. Four weeks ago a Japanese Boeing 727 smashed into Tokyo Bay as it was landing. It was the world's worst single plane disaster, with 133 dead.

The Canadian Pacific plane was Flight 402 bound from Hong Kong to Vancouver via Tokyo, then on to Mexico City, Lima, Santiago and Buenos Aires.

One report from an airport worker said he heard two explosions as the plane approached.

Rites Planned For Soldier Killed In Viet

Military services are being arranged for a 28-year-old former city man who has been killed in action in Viet Nam, according to the Defense Department.

Spec. 4 Charles Kenneth Seates, stepson of Melvin Chestnut family left Thursday of Annesley Rd., was a combat victim in the Viet conflict earlier this week.

He is the son of Mrs. Della White of Charles Town, officials said.

A 1955 graduate of East Liverpool High School, he was born April 24, 1937.

He enlisted in the Army not long after leaving high school and recently re-enlisted, a re friends reported.

Services were planned at Gainesville, Ga., for where the Chestnut family left Thursday.

No details on the soldier's death have been made available locally by the Defense Department.

At Waterford Park Race Track

4 Escape In Plane Crash

Representatives of the Federal Aviation Agency this morning began an investigation into the crash of a single-engine plane at the Waterford Park race track, near Newell, late Thursday afternoon.

Pilot Gordon Hawk of Lucasville, Ohio, and three men from Portsmouth, Ohio, escaped with only minor scratches in the accident.

THE MEN were leaving the park on the 1,700-foot private runway the track maintains. The craft was hardly off the ground when its right wing hit a light pole inside the park.

The plane landed in a parking lot and continued rolling until it went down a 15-foot embankment.

Track Manager Harry Bell said the four men received only minor scratches and all refused hospitalization. No one on the ground was hurt. (Turn to PLANE, Page 7)

Pound North, South Targets

U.S. Air Attacks Greatest Of War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine jets unleashed the Viet Nam war's greatest display of air power in the past 24 hours of attacks against Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam.

Forward air controllers reported 370 buildings destroyed, 350 damaged, 10 sampans sunk and 10 fuel or ammunition dumps blown up.

A subsequent flight of six Air Force F100 Super Sabres at noon caught about 100 Viet Cong in a rice field after they fired on a spotter plane, a spokesman said. The jets killed 26 and pulverized seven buildings, he said.

"It was our maximum effort," a spokesman said.

With the first good weather in more than a week, American planes flew 55 missions—double the usual number — deep into North Viet Nam. For the first time since the 37-day bombing pause ended Jan. 31, they ranged far north of Hanoi.

Air Force jets pounded bridges, trains and other railroad installations on tracks along the Red River line leading to Red China.

One flight went as far as the Lang Bun railroad bridge 120 miles northwest of Hanoi and about 40 miles from the Chinese frontier, the spokesman said. There was no assessment of damage.

But other Air Force planes, he said, knocked out a bridge 110 miles northeast of Hanoi and another 85 miles from the capital on the same rail line, and cut the tracks and damaged cars 100 miles northwest of the city.

The Air Force flew a total of 30 missions. Navy planes flew 25. A mission usually involves more than one plane. The spokesman declined to reveal the number of individual sorties flown in the North but said they were twice the usual figure.

The pilots reported anti-aircraft fire but there was no announcement on any planes lost in the North. In the South, Viet Cong guns brought down a Marine F4 Phantom south of Chu Lai. The pilot, 1st Lt. T. P. Keenan, and his radar officer, Capt. C. R. Fairchild, ejected over the South China Sea and were rescued by aircraft from the Marine base at Chu Lai.

Planes from the three American services flew an unusually high total of 501 combat sorties against targets in the South from Thursday until dawn today, the spokesman said.

Viet Debate Gets Down To Funds Battle

Taxpayers Given Consideration On Growing War Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Nam debate gets down to dollars and cents issues today, with the administration and its critics clashing over whether Uncle Sam can afford the costs of growing world commitments.

The Senate, with concern not only for the troops in Viet Nam but also for the taxpayers at home, takes up the tax bill President Johnson requested to raise $6 billion to help pay the costs of the war.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, still the seething center for the debate, goes behind closed doors to start voting on an emergency $415-million request for foreign-aid funds for Viet Nam and also Laos, Thailand and the Latin American trouble spot, the Dominican Republic.

The committee used the bill as the launching pad for its Viet Nam policy that included a closed session Thursday with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

DiSalle Collapses, Rushed To Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was taken to Grant Hospital about 11:15 a.m. today after collapsing in a barber chair at the Hotel Sheraton-Columbus.

First reports were that he had suffered a heart attack, and that he was hemorrhaging at the mouth. His condition was not determined immediately.

Just shortly before he was taken to the hospital his law office had confirmed reports that he had joined a Washington law firm on a full time basis.

Other sweeping tax reforms were proposed by the mayor in the 15-minute fireside chat, including a stock transfer tax. That proposal has caused the New York Stock exchange to exhume its 33-year-old threat to move to New Jersey.

Jackson Hit; One Claimed In Alabama

Congress Candidate Killed; Destruction Spewed By Storms

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Rescue workers combed sparsely populated rural regions east of Jackson today, looking for more victims of the savage tornadoes which spewed death and destruction in Mississippi.

Former Resident, Family Are Unhurt

A former city woman and her family escaped injury in the tornadoes that ripped through the Jackson (Miss.) area near their home Thursday afternoon, but the family's cat was killed while under care at a veterinarian's office in a shopping center hit by the twisters.

Mrs. Ruth Galloway of 801 Dewey Ave. learned this morning her daughter, Mrs. Helen Galloway Knazvic, 38, of Jackson was unhurt.

Her husband, Gordon Knazvic, a telephone cable worker, and daughter, Ruth Ellen Bartley, also escaped injury.

Mrs. Knazvic told her mother of the "terrible winds" in the district and said she had just arrived home from the shopping center when the storm slammed into the area.

The Mississippi death toll steadily mounted during the night and stood at 57, the Mississippi Highway Patrol said. One person was reported killed in neighboring Alabama.

Larry Parks of broadcast station WQFT-FM at Forest, in Scott County, said many homes "are just gone...and the people in them are missing, too."

In Jackson, the state's largest city and capital, a tornado dealt death and devastation in a suburban shopping center. At least 12 persons were killed.

Nearby, the modern brick Woodville Heights Baptist church looked like it had exploded. Homes across the street were untouched.

A patrol spokesman said 411 were injured in Jackson and (Turn to TORNADOES, Page 6) visit Ohio campuses, but we have found students there are gravitating away from East Liverpool at present," he stated.

"We have no choice but to go to the people in May and ask for a decision. We must think of the education of our youngsters," Blair declared.

English pointed out a proposed 3.5-mill levy was defeated in the November election, but said there were other factors—such as Issue No. 1 on state education funds—which affected the local levy vote.

He said the city voters in the past consistently have supported school issues and levies.

It was suggested the board be asked to consider a 3.5-mill levy or more in the primary. It could be only for a five-year period, but would require only a majority vote for approval.

mixing a meeting which began at 6 p.m. Thursday night.

The session became bogged down after three Republican senators took issue with parts of the bill.

They introduced amendments which then were adopted by the upper chamber.

Three amendments change district alignment while the fourth amendment extends the filing deadline for congressional candidates not affiliated with either major party from March 8 to March 30. Party affiliated candidates would have to file by March 15.

Only a fraction of the seven-hour meeting was used to debate, amend and advance the bill. Two lengthy recesses utilized for caucuses ate up the bulk of the session.

The three geographic amendments were successfully proposed by Republican Sens. John T. Van Sant, Lehigh; Robert P. Johnson, Montgomery; and William B. Lentz, Dauphin.

Johnson's amendment keeps Lower Merion Township and Narberth borough in the 13th district of Montgomery County. Lentz's amendment adds more of southern Dauphin county to that portion of the county in the proposed 17th district.

The Van Sant amendment adds sections of Lehigh and Montgomery Counties to the proposed new eighth district which is composed of Bucks County and part of Lehigh County.

Lentz also had introduced an amendment which would have placed Dauphin County in its entirety in the proposed 17th District but it was beaten down.

The present bill divides the county, the upper half going to the 17th District and the lower half going into the 16th District. "I cannot agree with this plan. It splits a compact central Pennsylvania and Dauphin County especially," Lentz said.

Suit Filed Against Reapportionment

HARRISBURG (AP) — While congressional reapportionment was still making its laborious way through the legislature, a taxpayer's suit was filed in Commonwealth Court to declare the plan unconstitutional.

The action was filed Thursday by J. Pennington Straus of Philadelphia. He asked that the court order congressional "primary and general elections be conducted on at-large statewide basis."

Named defendant in Straus' action was W. Stuart Helm, secretary of the commonwealth.

Straus contended that the plan as now drawn would create in Philadelphia districts "that are not contiguous." Unless the court acts, he said the plan would "create chaos and confusion."

FCC Asks Law Be Written On Control Of CATV

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last month the Federal Communications Commission assumed control over the community antenna television (CATV). On Thursday the FCC asked Congress to write that authority into law.

It sent to Congress a proposed bill to virtually prohibit CATV operators from originating television programs, confining them to picking up signals from television stations. It suggested, however, carrying of weather forecasts and the time might be exceptions.

The CATV industry uses master antennas to pick up television programs from stations and transmit them by cable into the homes of paying subscribers. An estimated 1,650 CATV systems are in operation, many in small communities without regular television stations.

The FCC urged Congress to take a broad approach toward CATV legislation, leaving details to the commission "because of the dynamic and relatively new nature of the CATV field."

Please, Secretary McNamara

We shudder whenever Secretary of Defense McNamara speaks about the war in Viet Nam. Some people with more rancor in their hearts than the rest of us call it "McNamara's War." That is laying it on too heavy.

But it is a war that Secretary McNamara has been identified with closely since 1961, and it cannot be denied that his comments on it have been frequent. His tone has been hopeful.

He has warned repeatedly that it would be a drawn-out affair, with no hope of a quick settlement. But Secretary McNamara has shown signs of believing from the very first that it was not going to be necessary to do much more than already was being done to uphold Old Glory in Southeast Asia. That's why we wince.

ALL THE TIME the United States has been sucked ever deeper into the vortex of violence, death and massive spending in Southeast Asia, Secretary McNamara has been talking about stabilization of the conflict. He achieved a kind of fame for the heartiness of his outlooks when he was going to Viet Nam to size up the situation.

He has been hopeful about the role of South Viet Nam.

He has been hopeful about getting the U.S. military task cleaned up by the end of 1965, though it didn't turn out that way.

He has led his countrymen to believe that Viet Nam was getting so much stronger the United States could turn over more and more responsibility to it.

"We have stopped losing the war," he declared in November 1965. But in March 1966 we still are not winning it.

All this has added up to a net deficit in Secretary McNamara's status as a prophet and has added no cubits to his stature as a military genius.

Yet, no one can blame the man McNamara as he announces the latest increase in U.S. manpower in Viet Nam. It is McNamara, the secretary of defense in the Kennedy-Johnson cabinet, who has been put under a cloud for trying to explain the inexplicable.

THE ONLY Americans who have covered themselves with credit and occasionally with glory in this Asiatic adventure are the military people who have mucked around in the rice paddies, slashed through the jungles, skittered at tree-top level though the skies and fought in hand-to-hand combat with a determined and fiercely purposeful enemy.

They have been carrying out their assignment in a course of national action that never was clearly authorized before it started and cannot be rationalized now that it is in mid-passage, with no end in sight.

As the possessor of what is claimed to be the most logical mind in the Johnson Cabinet, Robert S. McNamara must chew his knuckles to the bone over what looks like the most illogical passage at arms since the Kilkenny cats fought to a draw.

A Good Start

With nearly 500 present, the church-sponsored series of discussions on community problems has gotten off to a start that surpassed the hopes of even the most optimistic.

It's true that Wednesday night's topic, which dealt with homosexuality, was an explosive one which may have had something to do with the large turnout. Only time and the next four discussion periods will tell.

It would be encouraging if the interest is maintained and full houses mark the remaining presentations.

Such attendance would be another sign that a general re-awakening is continuing and that challenging situations will not find East Liverpool's residents wanting.

But along would come some fool to turn them into a shambles—some fool who never would have had a license, some fool who was drunk, some fool who was out of his mind with suicidal and homicidal impulses, some fool trying to show the world what a hot-shot he was.

There would go the whole safety program, if all it included was better roads, better cars, better seat belts and fancier gadgets. These things can make highways a little safer for people who already are safety-minded. They can minimize the effect of collisions.

But they cannot change the maniacal nature of the drivers causing most of the accidents—the drunks, the dopes, the scofflaws, the refugees from the Utah salt flats who try to set land-speed records on public highways.

In advertising jargon of the day, the No. 1 contender in exploration of outer space is trying as hard as No. 2, which has to try a little harder.

It was predicted by our own scientists years ago that the Russians would maintain their space lead indefinitely, all else being equal, because there was no way to catch up.

It takes a certain time to complete one of these complex projects in space exploration—and that much time plus if something goes wrong. So far, No. 1 has had no serious setbacks. So far, No. 2 has stayed in the running by trying hard—but no harder than No. 1.

At this rate, with no serious setbacks, the Russians will reach the moon first. Our own doughty astronauts must still live by a bitter-sweet slogan:

Anything the Russians can do Americans can do later.

had to make it on their own, with the help of a bottle. That never worked either.

Who is going to be available around the clock to feed a lamb as often as it wants a full meal? The only lamb that ever made it through lambhood turned out to be a loner, rejected by the other lambs and abused by all their mothers. One day he was missing. Months later, his skeleton was found where he had come to the end of the trail.

New lambs are cute—for a few days. Watching them be born, then learn to walk, nurse, lie down, get up and distinguish their own mothers from all those other woolly nonentities is as fascinating an experience as nature offers.

Lambing used to take as long as two weeks. Everything about raising sheep finally became a drag. That's why there are no spring lambs any more at the Twillery. It's why the good shepherd doesn't look like something deep frozen in the High Sierras for a fortnight either. It was fun while it lasted, but when it ceased to be fun it didn't last any longer than it took to sell the flock.

A new addition to travel in Yellowstone National Park this year is a fleet of powered snow toboggans on a drive-them-yourself basis. The across-the-snow fun buggies accommodate two and three passengers each for a guided trip to points of interest. Along with the rental fee for each machine operators include pile-lined overalls for extra warmth.

Labor Still In LBJ's Corner

By Victor Riesel

There are substantial reports that the country's revitalized labor leaders have left their Florida seaside enclaves, angrily eager to come north and launch an independent national Labor party to take vengeance on the Democrats.

Untrue. There is no feud. There is no rift. There is no anger with President Johnson. And there won't be a nationwide Labor party in foreseeable times.

The American labor movement is the only such coalition which is not directly affiliated with a political party. American labor likes to ride a winner wherever possible.

That's why they were lukewarm over Adlai Stevenson. That's why they wanted Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to run on the Democratic ticket in '48—even Walter Reuther was for him. Only Ike objected.

So they won't break with the Democrats and launch an isolated class party. President Lyndon Johnson, furthermore, is their friend and instead of feuding with him, they're rallying to him behind-the-scenes.

He conferred privately with them—George Meany and Walter Reuther among others—all through January in person up to the 27th and over the phone since they went south.

THEY BELIEVE the President has been unduly harassed by Senators Fulbright, Morse and Bob Kennedy over Viet Nam. They do not want to make his travail more burdensome.

The man they really dislike now is Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., during all those private White House conferences over 14B repeal, the President told the labor men he could do nothing with the man from Montana. They believe the President. They tried publicly and privately to pressure Sen. Mansfield. They failed, too.

The pipe-smoking, 63-year-old, majority leader just was not going to crack down on his colleagues to give labor what it wanted—and may not do so to get labor what it wants now in minimum wages, and of the ban on secondary boycott picketing and federal centralizing of the U.S. Employment Service.

During the 14B repealer debate Mr. Mansfield merely went through the motions—say the labor leaders, especially the influential I. W. (Abe) Abel, new leader of the United Steelworkers. One unreported episode especially angered Mr. Abel and aroused the rest of his colleagues on the AFL-CIO Executive Council, when he recounted it to them in Florida.

IN WASHINGTON on the night of Jan. 27, in the Sheraton-Park Hotel, Senators Mansfield and Dirksen were the honored dais guests at a businessmen's banquet. The only labor man in the audience was Mr. Abel, truly a man of steel when he wants to be.

When the time came, Mr. Mansfield arose, spoke of the "esteem" he had for Mr. Dirksen and continued in language Mr. Abel believed should have been reserved only for Abraham Lincoln.

Not only did Mr. Mansfield—at the height of the 14B filibuster—speak highly of Mr. Dirksen, but the Democratic leader said stoutly that the current Congress "owes an immense debt to the contribution of the distinguished minority leader."

Abel was as grim as a smokestack in his native Canton-Pittsburgh area.

The next day, noticing the lack of real pressure from the majority leader on the Democratic senators, Mr. Abel gathered around him the experienced Dave Sullivan, president of the Building Service Workers and the veteran political strategist, Joe Keenan, an AFL-CIO vice president and the trio went button-holing.

They got to what senators they could to talk them into breaking the filibuster. Distinctly they got the impression there was even less pressure than they thought coming from Mr. Mansfield.

THIS WAS CONFIRMED when they asked Sen. Sparkman, D-Ala., how he, who had run as vice-presidential candidate with the late Mr. Stevenson, could support the filibuster against the labor movement's wishes. The impression the union chiefs got was that the Senate leadership had really not attempted to push him in their direction.

So the battle was—and is—with Mr. Mansfield. He's a hard man for them to fight. He's not up for re-election until 1970. He's a charter member of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO). And he's more learned than most of them—what with a masters degree and long stint as a college professor in Latin American and Far Eastern history.

Furthermore, the President needs him right now on international matters. Mr. Johnson can do without another feud in the Senate.

So the labor leaders, roaring with independence and self-determination, have withdrawn from their Southern enclaves. But they'll not pull a De Gaulle.

Clearcut Notice

By David Lawrence

Congress Emphasizes U.S. Unity

The Congress of the United States has notified the world that America stands squarely behind the President's policy of assisting the government of Viet Nam in repelling the aggression of the Communists.

The overwhelming vote in both houses should clear away any doubts whether this country means to retreat and withdraw and whether the 215,000 American troops in Viet Nam will be supported to the utmost in their brave fight against Communist aggression. It conceivably could open the door to peace negotiations and shorten the war.

The three roll calls must inevitably make an indelible impression everywhere.

First, the House of Representatives, by a vote of 392 to 4, approved the bill authorizing $4.8 billion more to fight the Viet Nam War.

Second, the Senate, by a vote of 93 to 2, approved the same measure.

Third, while the bill was under discussion in the Senate, an amendment which would have repealed the President's authority to carry on the war in Viet Nam was brushed aside by a vote of 92 to 5. Thus, there was erased the image of a Congress in danger of being influenced by intellectual confusionists, self-centered exhibitionists or reckless exponents of the idea of opposition for opposition's sake.

CONGRESS UNQUESTIONABLY was influenced by public opinion. Despite the hostile demonstrations here and there, the voice of the people—declaring, in effect, that the fighting must go on until there is an equitable settlement—was heard.

Some of the speeches in the Senate were as ambiguous as similar efforts in past history to proclaim worthy purposes but at the same time to offer the enemy the olive branch of appeasement.

Perhaps the most interesting phase of the debate was a speech delivered by the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., who said in part:

"The central issue is the contest between Chinese and American power, and the prospect for a lasting peace depends far more upon the resolution of that issue than it does on the matter of who is to participate in a South Vietnamese government and by what means it shall be formed."

There is no comparison, however, between the potential strength of the United States and Red China. The real issue today—and the one which is so generally overlooked by critics in the Senate—is that the Communists do not fight open wars. They infiltrate other countries and by subversion attempt to take over the government, as happened in North Viet Nam and Cuba.

SEN. FULBRIGHT suggested that there might be a "neutralization agreement" whereby Southeast Asia would be placed "under the guarantee of the major powers with interests in Southeast Asia, notably the United States, China, the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France, India and Japan."

The fallacy in the foregoing is that the Soviet Union itself is in a major conflict with Red China. The struggle for power in Asia between their governments cannot be suddenly resolved and an obligation imposed that they must respect—the neutrality of the Southeast Asian countries.

The truth is that Southeast Asia is too vast a territory to be handled by a "neutralization" device such as was used in Austria.

The real danger to the Southeast Asian people is the aggressive policies of autocratic governments. Both the Moscow and Peking regimes are concerned primarily with the acquisition of power in Asia, and they are not interested in neutralization. Even if there were an agreement to "neutralize," this would not prevent infiltration and attempts to take over the local governments and obtain political control anyway.

THE UNITED STATES is pursuing the only policy that can bring peace in Southeast Asia. This means the exercise of military power and the mobilization of the forces of the free world to repel aggression and assure the sovereignty and independence of all nations.

The true enemy of mankind today is Communist imperialism. It isn't going to be checked or defeated unless the free world stands up to the fight and manifests its willingness to thwart the ambitions of the Communists. Their autocratic rulers profess to believe that Communism is the savior of mankind but it has not brought contentment or salvation to the hundreds of millions of people in either the Soviet Union or Red China.

To Replace Old Devices

Administration Asks Bids
March 21 On 500 Meters

Following through on enabling legislation enacted by Council Feb. 21, Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey today issued a call for bids on 500 new parking meters to be filed at City Hall by noon March 21.

The official call for bids stipulates that the city will trade in an equal number of the old devices now in service. A majority of East Liverpool's parking meters have been in service since September 1947. The purchase is designed primarily to replace the 18-year-old meters, which have been termed unfit for service. The original installation was comprised of 475 devices made by the Dual Parking Meter Co. More than 200 have been added since on off-street lots, in extension of meter zones or as replacements.

Council's legislation stipulated that the low net bid will be determined by subtracting from the gross price the bidder's offer for the 500 old meters. It also provided that the city may pay for the meters in cash within 60 days, or make arrangements for installment payments.

The installment payments would be made via the so-called "excess revenue" plan. Under this arrangement, the city pays to the supplier each month an amount representing the difference between that month's revenue and the receipts in the same month of 1965.

For instance, if the meters produce $5,000 in June 1966 and the income was $4,000 in June 1965, the supplier would be paid $1,000.

The legislation does not limit the administration as to the type of meter it may purchase. It allows the mayor and director, who comprise the Board of Control, to take bids on either automatic or manual meters. Council appropriated $25,000 with which to pay for the meters in cash, but several of the members indicated they favor the "excess revenue" plan so that it would not be necessary to remove funds from general operating receipts.

At the same time, the board will receive bids on purchase of a used snow - blower for use in winter storm cleanups and 50,000 gallons of oil to be used to hold down summer dust on unimproved streets.

Council approved legislation Feb. 21 providing $2,500 for purchase of the snow - blower and authorizing the administration to call for bids and let a contract for the oil.

1965 Report Given

Survey Aired On County Higher Education Needs

An apparent need to provide a broader and more diversified higher education program in Columbiana County was revealed in a survey report submitted to a meeting of a countywide educational group Thursday night at Lisbon.

Dr. Raymond Young of the University of Michigan, retained last year with Dr. Max Lerner of Lorain County Community College to conduct an educational survey in the county, filed his report with the Regional Planning Commission's committee on higher education.

Forty attended the session at St. George's Catholic Church parish hall, with Floyd Lower, president of the planning commission, in charge.

Young reported on results of a survey of county students taken in 1965 and of a survey of employment needs of county businesses and industries.

He said based upon the number of young people not planning further education after high school and the interests shown by students in occupations for which there are limited or no present training facilities, there is "every evidence of a need for an educational program beyond the present program."

Young also mentioned a "discrepancy between the number of students who expressed an interest in liberal arts and those actually enrolled in liberal arts programs from Columbiana County."

He said there were a large number of boys and girls not planning or uncertain of advanced education, terming this a "waste of manpower in the county."

The reasons for not studying further were linked to finances and grades.

YOUNG SAID long-range occupational interests of the high school students centered in nursing, clerical work, drafting, health science technologies, cosmetology, drafting and others. He said one-sixth of the boys showed an interest in some kind of engineering.

He said about 39 per cent of the county's young people are going on to post-high school education, but that the national recommendation is that at least 50 per cent of the students should receive advanced training.

Young said there is a need for "a variety of post-high school educational programs to meet these occupational wants and there is an additional need for a four-year degree program which, by providing lower tuition, can accommodate those with financial problems."

The summary of the survey of industries and business, he said, indicated a need in area firms for technical employees and for pre-job training for workers.

Young answered some questions about the survey and of community colleges, then left for another meeting.

The committee expressed a desire to further question the educator and to study the high school survey which he did not have available for distribution.

It was agreed to set another meeting to question Young and further review the higher education situation.

Panel Discussion Held

NEA And NFT Explained At Session Of Teachers

Representatives of the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers, an affiliate of the AFL-CIO, discussed the merits of their groups and relative benefits to teachers at the annual business meeting of the East Liverpool Teachers Association Thursday afternoon at Westgate School.

Classes were dismissed early yesterday afternoon to permit teachers to attend a lengthy meeting at which Bruce Roush, a sixth grade teacher at Lincoln, was named president-elect of the ELTA for 1967-68.

Representing the NEA in the panel discussion were William Hodge of Indianapolis, midwest representative, and Ed Hoon of Columbus, field director of the Ohio group while the AFT was represented by Mrs. Dorothy Matheny of Toledo, executive secretary of the Ohio organization, and George Straigisher of Columbus, executive field representative in Ohio.

After outlining the benefits of each organization, the panelists answered written questions submitted in advance by ELTA members. The panel discussion followed the business meeting. Besides Roush, the teachers also accepted a slate of officers submitted by the nominating committee headed by Don Adams. Mrs. Rachel Delaney, temporary chairman, reported in the absence of Adams who is hospitalized.

Mrs. Raofaella Harrington was elected recording secretary; Mrs. Donna Campbell, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Kathleen Hissam were named to the Board of Directors. Tony LaNeve, coordinator of federal programs, will succeed Austin B. Moore as ELTA president when the new officers are installed at a meeting May 5 at 4:15 p. m. at East Junior High School. James Martin is in charge of arrangements.

Plans were approved to send a delegate to the NEA convention in Miami June 26-July 1. The ELTA also authorized a drive to increase membership of school employees in the Columbiana County Credit Union.

Jerry Russell outlined the purposes and benefits of the group, reporting about 18 from East Liverpool are among the 187 members. The credit union paid a dividend of 4½ per cent interest last year, he reported.

Plans also were discussed for the banquet April 14 at Westgate cafeteria at which the Board of Education and administrators will be guests. Martin and Mrs. Gyla Nicely are in charge of arrangements.

Moore reported on the meet-rural counties to the east of the capital city.

One of the tornado victims was Joe Bullock, a Democratic candidate for Congress in Mississippi's 4th District. Bullock, recently ousted as director of the state's Agriculture and Industrial Board, was killed instantly, the Highway Patrol said, when the twister blew his car off the road near the Forkville community in Scott County.

Damage was expected to run into the millions from the state's worst natural disaster since a 1942 tornado left 75 dead in central and northwest Mississippi.

"I think we'll find more dead," said Deputy Sheriff Bob Fasano.

Officers also feared more bodies would turn up in Scott County, to the east of Jackson.

The line of tornadoes moved eastward into west-central Alabama during the night. There was one known dead in Alabama and 11 injured.

An Air Force Reserve C119 transport flew into Jackson shortly after midnight, bringing two mobile Red Cross disaster trucks and 20 pints of rare blood from Mobile, Ala.

Much of the destruction in Jackson, the state's largest city with a quarter of a million people, was centered around the Candlestick Park shopping center at the southwest edge of the city. The Highway Patrol said 12 persons were killed in the shopping center.

One wall of a supermarket and a service station wall were all that remained standing in the center.

Prisoners from the Jackson and Hinds County jails worked alongside teen-agers, searching for bodies and survivors in the rubble.

Buildings and construction equipment, owned by the county, were rushed to the area and used to shove aside the tangled debris.

W.W. Ragan, State Civil Defense director, said damage to the shopping center "is in excess of a million dollars."

A power substation in southwest Jackson was demolished. Much of the city was temporarily thrown into darkness and the lights were out for seven hours in the central business section.

Traffic lights were out because of the power failure and rush hour traffic became hysterical.

Wellsville firemen were called to Henry Ave. late Thursday afternoon on a reported auto fire, but it was a mistaken alarm, Chief Robert Lewis said. Firemen received a call at 4:10 p. m. that an auto was on fire at the home of William Pease of 630 Henry Ave.

However, firemen found that a cleaner being run through the carburetor of the auto owned by Marian Crisco of the same address had created a lot of smoke. A neighbor seeing the smoke thought the car was on fire.

Jack Lawrence of 16th St. and Maple Ave., Wellsville, was fined $50 and costs and given a suspended five-day jail term by Mayor William Daugherty Thursday on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident last week.

Plane

hurt, but there was about $900 in damage done to the park, Bell said.

BELL SAID the accident occurred about 5:15 p. m. shortly after the last race ended. "We were lucky it happened after all the people left. If the plane had gone through the parking lot while people were coming out of the clubhouse, someone might have been killed or seriously injured," Bell remarked.

Bell said he did not know the cause of the crash, but said, "It seemed like the pilot couldn't gain altitude."

An emergency car was rushed to the scene when trouble developed but, according to Bell, all four passengers declined to go to a hospital. He said the four men, who had planned to fly to Kentucky for a business meeting yesterday, rented an automobile and left for home soon after the mishap.

Bell pointed out this was the first airplane accident at the track since he became affiliated with Waterford eight years ago. He said five planes utilized the 1,700-foot landing strip in the middle of the track yesterday and on other days as many as seven or eight fly in and out.

Youth's Cited In Entry Case

An 18-year-old Pleasant Heights youth is due for a preliminary hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. in Municipal Court on a charge he burglarized a St. Clair Ave. home in mid-January of a guitar and amplifier worth a total of $150.

Frank Wells of Francis St. was named in an affidavit signed by Capt. Robert Pyle alleging that the defendant entered the home of Richard A. Kontner of 1050 St. Clair Ave. on Jan. 18 and stole a guitar valued at $100 and an amplifier worth $50.

Taken before the court today, Wells did not enter a plea. The judge granted the continuance to allow Wells to talk with his parents, since they were not present, and to seek to obtain legal counsel. Wells' appearance bond was set at $1,000.

Capt. Pyle said Wells, taken into custody Thursday, signed a statement admitting that he entered the Kontner home through a window.

Wells kept the guitar and amplifier at a friend's home for a brief time, then he and another youth drove to Youngstown, where the defendant pawned the property, Capt. Pyle related. He said the other youth since has moved to California.

Wells was sought for some time in connection with the entry, but he was out of town, the captain said. Wells, advised he was being sought for questioning, surrendered himself yesterday and explained he had been visiting in Washington, D. C., New Jersey and New Mexico, the captain said.

Jury Weighs Fate Of 2 In Mossler Case

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Twelve jurors return to an 18 by 30-foot deliberation room today, for the weighty task of judging blonde Candace Mossler and her nephew in the 1964 slaying of her multimillionaire husband, Jacques Mossler.

The jurors were due back at 9 a. m. in the Dade County Circuit Court, where Judge George Schulz gave them their final instructions Thursday night. His legal charge lasted slightly more than an hour.

The lives of Mrs. Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, rested in the jury's hands, with no words to guide the panel toward a decision. The state did not press for the death penalty, nor did it waive it.

After receiving the seven-week-old case at 9:14 p. m. Thursday, the jury deliberated for less than two hours and was sent to a downtown Miami hotel at 11 p. m.

43 Conferences Planned During Vocational Week

Forty-three conferences to acquaint East Liverpool High School students with career opportunities in various professions and businesses will be held during the annual Vocational Conference Week March 28 - April 1.

It will mark the 20th year the conferences have been held under the guidance department headed by Deans Bert A. Dawson and Mrs. Ruth Connor.

The vocational conference week was started by the two deans in 1947, the first year for a full-time guidance department. Prior to that time individual classroom teachers, usually in the commercial department, conducted a program consisting chiefly of visits to businesses and financial institutions.

The conference this year will open with a general assembly on March 28 at which a keynote speaker will address the students.

Speakers from various businesses and professions will address students at individual conferences Tuesday through Friday.

Scheduled for Tuesday are conferences on elementary teaching, secondary teaching, law, flower growing and merchandising, electrical service and maintenance, photography, civil service, dentistry, retail selling, radio programming and production, dental hygiene and insurance.

The fields to be covered Wednesday include medicine (for senior college prep students only), the newspaper business, advertising, laboratory technician, machine trades, vocal and instrumental music, telephone operator and office for girls, telephone maintenance for boys, practical nursing and architecture.

Thursday conferences will be automobile dealership, business practice, the ministry and religious education, building trades, home and family relations, art and interior decorations, banking, armed services for boys and for girls, and osteopathy, medicine and surgery.

Concluding the week, conferences will be held Friday on home economics, nursing, pharmacy, agriculture, truck transportation, airline opportunities, beautician, engineering, YMCA work, and careers in the FBI.

A survey of the student body now is being conducted to determine which conferences the students prefer to attend.

Students are asked to register for four conferences in order of preference, but probably won't be scheduled for more than two. Where possible, seniors and juniors will be scheduled for their first two choices and sophomores for their first choice, the deans said.

More Drama At CBS

The CBS-TV network sent out a news release last week which had more drama between the lines than most of its shows. There also were a couple of laughs. The announcement concerned the return next season of Garry Moore as "the star of a new comedy-variety series."

Hal Humphrey (Mr. Moore, in case you hadn't noticed, has been off TV for two seasons.) The biggest laugh was in the following quote from John T. Reynolds, the newest CBS-TV president:

"We are extremely happy that this wonderful performer is returning to the television scene. He has been missed during his absence, and I'm sure his many fans will welcome the news of his return with great delight."

THE CHANCES are even that nobody missed "this wonderful performer" as much as Garry Moore, who was unceremoniously fired by CBS-TV president James Aubrey (that was two presidents ago) because he decided there wasn't enough of those "many fans" watching Mr. Moore's old comedy-variety series.

But the real drama was embodied in another paragraph which read:

"Reynolds also said that Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver, one of the most creative people in the history of television, has been named executive producer of the Garry Moore Show."

Weaver must have been somewhat surprised at that expansive description of himself, and at the same time wondered why, if CBS felt that way, it hadn't latched on to him before this. He's been more or less idle since November 1964, when California voters put the kibosh on his subscription TV company by outlawing all pay TV.

ACTUALLY Weaver's talents as one of TV's "most creative people" haven't been tapped by the industry for the past 10 years, since NBC let him go as its former president and chairman of the board.

To bring Weaver back as ex-

FORGETFULNESS

Q. Is there any treatment for the forgetfulness of old age?

A. No curative treatment is known for the forgetfulness of old age. It is sometimes possible to compensate for poor memory by using notes and other devices. If the forgetfulness is severe, it may be helpful to restrict the patient's activities so that less strain is placed on his memory.

THE "WHY" OF OBESITY

Q. Is it lack of exercise that has brought on the great American affliction—obesity?

A. Yes, to a great extent. Many nutritionists believe that "creeping" overweight in our modern world is due to inactivity. Man was designed to be physically active and is well-equipped to hunt, fish, or till the soil. Food intake is frequently excessive because of our highly mechanized sedentary way of living. Adapting to such conditions means that the individual must either step up his activity or be mildly or severely hungry all his life.

W.Va. Will Sell Or Give Away Its Centennial Boat

CHARLESTON, W. VA. (AP) — The state wants to sell, or give away, the centennial showboat Rhododendron, Natural Resources Director Robert P. McDonough said Thursday.

When asked about a selling price he answered, "I've got an idea its not worth much unless you find someone who really wants one, or wants to put on a centennial celebration."

McDonough added, "We might even give it away if it were put to some public use."

The showboat is now being used as a theater by West Virginia University. It is moored on the Monongahela River at Morgantown.

The Rhododendron was known as the Omar before it was purchased for the centennial year observance in 1963. Since that time the Natural Resources Department has had trouble getting money from the legislature for maintaining the showboat.

Scranton As Next Chancellor Of Pitt Seen Highly Unlikely

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Chances of Gov. Scranton becoming chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh are "highly unlikely," Acting Chancellor David H. Kurtzman said Thursday.

"In fact, I just don't see it," Kurtzman said to students in a question-and-answer session in the Student Union.

"The trouble is," he said, "we could hardly say we aren't interested in him—that's an insult to the governor. And he's in the same position; he can't say he's not interested in us. That's an insult to the University of Pittsburgh."

Kurtzman added that this was no reflection on the governor and that he was a fine gentleman, "but there are a lot of people in this world who are not ready to take on the job of running this university, possibly including myself."

A student asked if state related status would mean state domination of Pitt.

Kurtzman said he didn't know why people thought that a government-appointed trustee is somehow automatically undesirable.

"The most government-appointed trustees that anyone has suggested is one-third of our board," he said. "We hope to bargain for less. But in any event we feel these new members can very well be more representative of the community, perhaps more than some on our board now, and that they can bring us some new approaches."

Kurtzman said that no sizeable increase in enrollment is expected within the next three to five years.

And state-related status would not mean lowering admission standards, he said.

Open Primary Urged In Pennsylvania Race

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An open primary in the Democratic gubernatorial nomination race between State Sen. Robert P. Casey and Milton J. Shapp was proposed Thursday by the legislative conference of the eight United Steelworkers districts in Pennsylvania.

A union spokesman said the conference will forward the recommendation to the state AFL-CIO.

Hugh P. Carcella, conference chairman said, "Those who want to work for Casey will work for him and those who want to work for Shapp will work for him. It's that simple."

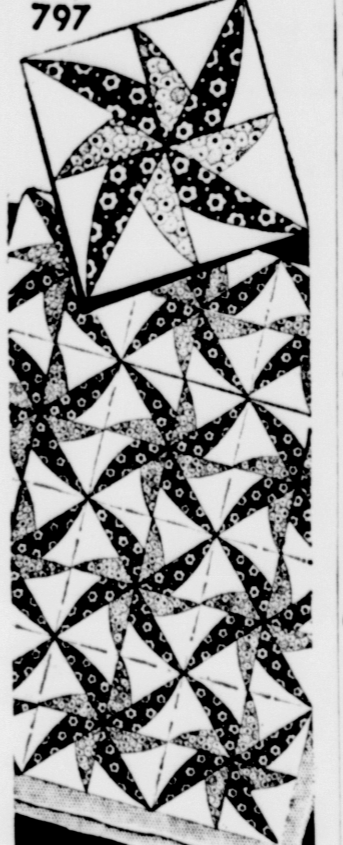

Bodies Of 4 Found In Plane's Wreckage

OAK HILL, Fla. (AP)—The bodies of four persons, including a 17-year-old youth from suburban Pittsburgh, were found Thursday in the wreckage of a private plane in a swamp.

The youth, Edward Stemnock of Bethel Park, along with Lewis Allen, 32, of Eau Gallie, the pilot; Walter Johnson, 32, of Merritt Island and Johnson's son, Don, 7, were returning from the Daytona 500 stock car race at Daytona Beach when the tragedy occurred.

The wooded swamp where the wreckage was spotted is less than 25 miles from Daytona.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I must tell you of this fabulous, easy, low-cost and minimum - effort way that my wonderful husband found to wash those windows, mirrors, etc.

Buy the cheapest rubbing alcohol you can find, take the lid off and screw on a sprayer head such as comes on spray starch or hand lotion bottles — not fizz types.

Take a soft cloth, and you're ready for the easiest, most wonderful, sparkling windows you have ever had.

Just spray on and wipe off. On any stubborn spots, just spray a little more alcohol and off they go.

You can use the same cloth for a good many windows, even after you would normally think it too soiled to use. In fact, you can use the same cloth with good effect as long as it dries the windows.

The wonderful part of using alcohol is that it cannot freeze, so you can use it in even below-zero weather. It's a must for those glass patio doors and windows. And if you wear plastic-coated gloves, you will have nice, warm hands.

May this be as helpful to you as it is to me.

AN ARDENT READER.

Ohhhh, you're a doll! I know alcohol is wonderful for cleaning windows but I never thought about putting the push - sprayer finger - type plunger right in the alcohol bottle.

And, did you know that crumpled up newspapers are wonderful for shining those windows after you squirt the alcohol on them?

There's just something about the printer's ink and alcohol that really makes glass gleam.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

TV Viewing Should Be Regulated

Recently we pointed out the obvious fact that TV viewing keeps millions of children—and adults — from reading for pleasure.

We were not so foolish as to make the impossible recommendation that TV sets should be abolished from the home. But we did urge that Dr. Garry Myers parents regulate the time their children from two years of age and upward watched TV though not with great optimism that this would happen. We noted that some educators have reported the increase of borrowing of the books around which an occasional TV program has been presented.

But by implication, we deplored the fact that these educators failed to point out that millions of other children have been diverted from reading, thanks to excessive TV viewing.

YOU MAY also have read some articles in educational journals pointing out that preschool children may increase their vocabulary by viewing TV. But nobody has tried to find out whether they would gain as much or more from being read to for a time equal to the TV viewing time. Common sense would dictate that young children would gain far more in vocabulary from being read to. If you were to read half as long or even a quarter as long, to your child from two to six years of age as the time he watches TV, imagine what he would gain in verbal expression and useful creative imagination. Having read to your child daily from the time he would listen till long past his entering the first grade, see what a boon to his future education. He has had all these years associating what he heard with the printed page, and wishing for the time when he could read aloud. Contrast this with his having viewed freely for hours and hours any TV programs he chose.

Once your child who has been read to for many years begins to read alone you, naturally, should want him to read some for pleasure every day then and thereafter. Even if he can read fairly well, he may not, on his own accord, choose to read when he is allowed to view TV as much as he likes.

SOME WILL say that we should aim to find books and other materials so appealing to him that he will prefer to read. Wherean an occasional child in the elementary grades will so enjoy reading as to prefer reading to TV viewing, most children won't, as anybody knows, there is not much sense in hoping to compete with free TV viewing.

If we want the reading child to read we will have to make sure he will read for a definite reasonable period daily with TV silent.

As soon as your child can read alone, require him to read for a brief period daily from other than his school books. Continue this requirement, if you can, all through his elementary and secondary school life.

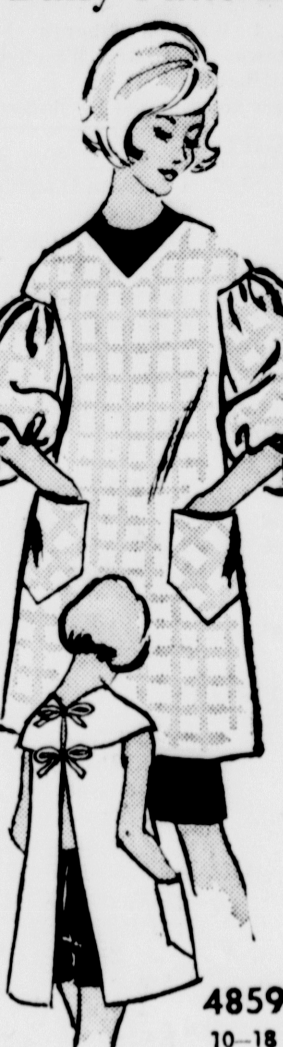

If his homework is heavy make the required reading time very short. Even five or ten minutes a day should prove useful. Some students might have an hour or more a day easily available.

SOME parent find that their child in the upper grades, junior or senior high often reports on evenings that he has no homework. These parents would be wise to require this child to read from approved sources that evening, in lieu of homework, about as long as the regular homework would require.

Imagine the rise in level of school achievement our nation over if most parents were to enforce the foregoing recommendation.

My bulletins "Why Read to Baby and Young Child," "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," and "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Meeting Of BPW To Feature Study Of Handwriting

Members of the East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club will have the opportunity to learn "how personally traits are revealed in handwriting" during their monthly dinner meeting next Wednesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Mrs. L. W. Reed, chairman of the club's Personal Development Committee which is in charge of program arrangements, will discuss "The Trail You Leave In Ink." She will demonstrate how personality characteristics are revealed and how emotional reactions can be predicted through handwriting analysis. Mrs. Reed also has arranged for an "audience participation" feature during the program when members will analyze their own handwriting traits. A question - and - answer period will follow.

Both decorations and entertainment will follow an "Irish Springtime" theme — with a group of Irish songs to be presented by Mrs. John W. Brown, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Lowe at the piano.

Members of the committee assisting Mrs. Reed in the program are Mrs. Robert E. Wolring, Mrs. Forrest Saucer, Mrs. Paul McHenry, Mrs. Glenn Russell, Mrs. Caroline Mountford, Miss Solina Liberatore and Mrs. Richard Franklin. Mrs. Franklin is also dinner reservations chairman for the meeting.

Announcement was made, too, that luncheon reservations for the March 13 BPW area meeting at Atwood Lake Lodge also may be made through these committee members. Mrs. McHenry is reservations chairman for the March 13 event, which is open to non-members.

Appeal Seen After Fraud Convictions

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Daniel Armel of Columbus, top man in the bankrupt Certified Credit Corp., likely will appeal fraud convictions on 22 counts that could put him behind bars for up to 110 years.

Attorneys for Armel, 48, so indicated after a U. S. District Court jury of 10 women and two men returned guilty verdicts late Thursday, following a three-week trial.

Armel, who was board chairman and president of Certified, was taken into custody immediately. He had been free on bond.

Judge Carl A. Weinman ordered an immediate presentence report. He indicated he would sentence Armel at the same time he sentences four other Certified officials who entered guilty pleas to specific counts of a 30-count indictment.

The 110 years would be if consecutive terms were imposed on each of 22 counts involving mail fraud and conspiracy to defraud in selling stock of Certified and its several subsidiaries.

The specific charges included one count of conspiracy to defraud and making false statements about the firm's financial condition and 21 of using the mail to defraud in connection with corporation business.

The trial here followed previous litigation over the tangled affairs of the Columbus - based corporation with subsidiaries including Certified Mortgage Corp., Certified Credit and Thrift Corp. of Ohio and Texas; Commonwealth Security Corp., Louisiana Life, and Houston Financial Corp., Houston, Tex.

Carl Tresemmer, who was company treasurer, and Robert N. Savage, president, pleaded guilty before the trial and testified for the government against Armel.

Donald Hathaway and Jack Singleton of Hathaway & Hathaway, Cincinnati accounting firm, changed pleas of innocent to guilty after proceedings got under way. They were charged with fraud on mail sales of stock in Certified subsidiaries.

Accountant Chester Hathaway is ill and his case is to be decided later.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our teenage daughter has made us feel that we are freaks from outer space who know nothing about young people.

Last night Isabella had a date with a 17-year-old boy who comes from a good family. The young man arrived promptly at 8 p.m. Isabella was not ready so my husband and I tried to make small talk.

The boy lit up a cigarette immediately. No one in our family smokes and so we do not have ash trays around but this did not seem to bother him in the least. He flicked the ashes in the cuff of his pants. When he had finished smoking the cigarette he put it out in a potted plant and left it there.

My husband and I were non-plussed but we said nothing. This morning we discussed the incident with Isabella and she said we are square and much too critical of her friends. We'd like your opinion. — OUTER SPACE MOTHER AND DAD.

Dear O.S.M. and D: Unless smoking is against your religion or strictly prohibited in your home for health reasons, you should have ash trays around for guests who do smoke.

What did you expect the kid to do with the cigarette after he had lit it? Eat it? Sorry, but I'm with your daughter. From your description of the boy you're lucky he used the plant and not the carpet.

Dear Ann: My husband's parents are very nice people and we get along well. They live across the street and just love to drop in after supper if we have nothing planned.

My in-laws are not intellectuals, which is all right with me, but the only reading they do is a TV magazine so they can decide which show to watch. The minute dinner is over they plug their eyeballs into the TV set. During the commercials they make a feeble attempt at conversation.

Unless there is something exceptional on TV I prefer to read. I have rigged up a little beam type light so I can read while the others are watching anything that moves.

My mother-in-law made a not-so-subtle remark that I'm trying to make them feel inferior by reading while they are viewing. She also intimated that I'm rude. Am I? —BOOKWORM.

Dear Book: If you prefer reading to watching TV you should do so with no needling from the television gallery. Make no excuses or apologies.

Cold Shouldered

Dear Ann: My husband was transferred to this city two years ago. Our children like it here and so does my husband but I'm miserable.

We moved to a suburb which is out of our class. I have not been accepted by the women in our church group or by the PTA women either. I know the cold shoulder when I see it and I have seen it at a Junior League meeting.

My husband says I'm sensitive and that I overinterpret. All I know is that there was not a single day last month that I didn't have a crying spell. I feel completely alone with my problem because my husband refuses to give me the help I need.

Last night when I told him the woman next door pretended not to see me waiting for a bus he said, "Write to Ann Landers." So I'm writing. —BELOW ZERO.

Dear Zero: See a doctor and get your physical batteries recharged. Then go to work on your mental batteries.

All people (in and out of the suburbs) respond to friendliness and someone who shows an interest in their interests. A woman who turns sour over small indignities, real or imagined, and then cries because she is ignored, should not hold her breath waiting for someone to offer a hand in friendship. It won't happen.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Lopsided Food Habits Cause Craving

The young lady in today's story who is worried about her weight, will be startled to learn she has malnutrition. She writes:

"I am growing fat as a pig again. I say 'again' because I use every school year I gain 20 some pounds. I want to reduce, but I've run into problems, my first being breakfast. I simply don't have time to fix breakfast. I've tried getting up earlier, but I have to leave the house before six-thirty.

"Next problem, lunch. Usually I eat an ice cream bar. I used to take a sandwich, but it takes five minutes to eat a sandwich and you feel so 'out-of-things' eating a sandwich when everyone else is licking ice cream. Besides, don't sandwiches have more calories than an ice cream bar?

"My biggest problem is when I get home. Boy do I eat! My mother isn't home to stop me and so I eat and eat and eat. I don't know why I stuff so, but I do, right up until dinner time. Then mother gets home and I know she'll be provoked if I eat a lot. One more thing, believe it or not, I'm a picky eater. I will only eat what I love and when we're out of things I love, I go on a minor starvation strike."

FIRST, what is back of your defiant starvation strikes? Your compulsive after-school eating stems from lopsided nutrition. The craving is caused by a lack of protective nutrients in your meals. Your insistence on eating only what you love has brought on hidden hunger, and the result is a craving for excess food, flabby muscles and lack of energy.

Recognize there is no diet that will let you out of buckling down and changing your eating habits. Give yourself a challenge. Get organized. The previous evening, bathe, and have your school clothes all ready to slip into fast. Result, time for breakfast. Rewards, higher grades and a brighter future.

Lunch: Be a leader, not a dietary dud. From ice cream bars you get only sugar and fat with your calories. You need protective calories.

Start over. Eat a balanced breakfast, including fruit or juice, an egg or cereal with milk. For lunch, eat a protein sandwich, a glass of milk, and fruit. After school, take a strength-giving pickup, a piece of cheese and an apple, or milk and a slice of bread. —one only.

Before the pickup, take shape-ups. Turn on the radio or a record and frolic through 20 minutes of stretch-bend-twist-turns. They're fun and fat-freeing! Tired? You're soft! Tone up for vigor.

You're a young adult now. Exchange free-for-all eating for protective nutrition. Doff the duffle with toning exercises. Well, are you a girl with gumption, or just a cream puff?

Bonds Not 'Stolen,' Secretary Slipped Up

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Whew! Must have been the reaction of David Quinn of Lima, Ohio. It turned out he only thought $480,000 in negotiable bonds were stolen from the trunk of his car parked in a downtown lot here Thursday.

A phone call to Quinn's secretary in Lima after the "theft" was reported to police developed that—happily—Quinn's secretary had failed to put the bonds in the paint company executive's briefcase before he left for Louisville.

Potters Gain Finals, Face Winterville For Crown

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Last Time Was 9 Years Ago . . .

It has been nine years since the East Liverpool Potters have won a Sectional Tournament championship as they find themselves one game away from the title.

In 1957, the Potters pulled one of the biggest upsets in the state by defeating Steubenville Big Red, 74-72, in the Sectional finals held that year at Memorial Auditorium.

Big Red came to East Liverpool with a 21-0 record and was being tabbed as a leading contender for the state title.

John Karaffa was head coach here at the time. The Potters then lost in their first district tournament game to Zanesville.

That was the last real success East Liverpool had in the tournament. Up until last year, the Potters lost their tourney opener five years in succession before defeating Wellsville.

East Liverpool gained the final game in 1958 under Karaffa but lost to Toronto.

The tournament jinx almost held up again Tuesday when the Wellsville Tigers nearly hustled the Blue and White off the court.

WIN, lose or draw Saturday night, the Potters have come a long way since losing the season's opener to Mayfield Heights.

Once a team with a 4-8 record, the Potters haven't lost since then and are riding an eight-game winning streak into the tournament finals.

ABOUT THE closest comparison one can make with Winterville and East Liverpool is that the only loss suffered by Winterville was a 77-55 setback at the hands of Cambridge. Following that victory, Cambridge lost to Martins Ferry, a team the Potters handled easily at Memorial Auditorium.

IF THE Potters win Saturday night, they would advance to the district tourney at Steubenville which would be made up of finalists from Martins Ferry, New Philadelphia and New Concord.

WE DON'T want to put the kiss of death on them, but don't be surprised if Eastern Ohio produces a Class A basketball champion this season.

Bridgeport High could take it all in the "A" ranks. Bridgeport was a Class AA school last season which went far along the tournament trail and has three regulars back from that team.

Mid-East Regional At Kent . . .

SPEAKING of basketball tournaments the NCAA Mid-East Regional is practically being held in our backyard.

Four top college teams will vie at Kent State University Monday night. Dayton and Miami meet in the first game at 7, while Loyola of Chicago faces Western Kentucky in the second at 9.

The two survivors will advance to Regional play at Iowa City.

The winner of the Dayton-Miami clash will face the Big 10 champion at Iowa City March 11, while the Loyola-Western Kentucky survivor must face the nation's No. 1 team—Kentucky—the same night.

Several local basketball buffs have been lucky enough to secure tickets for the Kent competition.

Allen Is Big Surprise . . .

THE BIGGEST surprise of the Minnesota Twins Florida training camp so far has been East Liverpool's Bernie Allen.

Allen has overcome a knee injury and has shown he is ready to make a strong bid for the second base job he held two years ago.

Working hard on a winter conditioning program, Bernie strengthened his knee and has impressed the Twins' brass with his showing so far in spring training.

West Virginia Comes Calling . . .

A NOTE received from Hayden Buckley, former Potter grid aide and now an assistant at West Virginia University, said the Mountaineers are very much interested in ELHS quarterback Chuck Winters.

Buckley is due to visit here in the very near future and hopes to make Winters "a Mountaineer."

West Virginia will have to get in line because there is a growing list of schools seeking the services of Winters who was a topnotch schoolboy passer.

Follansbee Next Foe For Oak Glen

Oak Glen, a winner over Wellsburg after losing to the same team twice during the regular season, will find itself in a similar situation against Follansbee when the two teams meet for the Section I-AAA tourney crown Saturday at 8 p. m. at the Weirton High School field-house.

Coach Bob Starkey's Bears upset Wellsburg, 53-46, Wednesday night to gain the finals while Follansbee paced by Jack Kostur's 33 point effort eliminated Weirton, 78-68 Thursday night at Weirton. At stake Saturday night is a spot in next week's Regional tournament at Moundsville.

Follansbee also holds two regular season victories over Oak Glen which can gain revenge at the right time Saturday night.

The Blue Wave, which only compiled a losing 5-13 record during the season, took a 22-16 first quarter lead on Weirton and held a 28-33 margin at half-time.

Follansbee extended the lead to 58-47 after three periods for a comfortable advantage.

While Kostur, the 5-10 all-state candidate from Follansbee, led the way with 12 field goals and nine fouls, three other starters gained the double figures for the Blue Wave.

Weirton received a 25-point performance from Vince Gilliam which came in a losing cause.

Follansbee hit 42 per cent on 28 of 66 while Weirton shot 39 per cent.

FOLLANSBEE—78: Robson 6-0-0; Neill 7-3-17; James 4-6-14; Beckelheimer 5-4-14; Kostur 12-9-33. Totals 28-22-78.

Herring's Hot 2nd Period Paces 55-45 Semi-Final Win Over Toronto

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters found themselves in the finals of the Class AA Sectional Tournament for the first time since 1958 after struggling to a 55-45 victory over Toronto Thursday night at the Community Arena in Steubenville.

It will be East Liverpool and Winterville for all the marbles Saturday night at 8 with a spot in the District tournament at stake. The District eliminations also will be held on the Arena floor next week.

THE LAST time the Potters won a Sectional crown was 1957 with a stunning upset over Steubenville Big Red. East Liverpool made it to the finals in '58, but bowed to Toronto.

Winterville was a finalist last year, but was beaten by Big Red.

The tall Warriors moved with ease into the championship round Thursday night by conquering Steubenville Central, 69-52 as a record 3,952 fans watched the doubleheader.

COACH Frank Chan now must map strategy to stop the big men in the Winterville lineup namely Dennis Peterson at 6-6½ and Gene Sulkowski at 6-5. Two other Warriors starters are over the 6-foot mark and four of the five first-stringers average between 14 and 15 points per game.

Coach Lee Patrone's club holds a 15-1 record, with the only loss being to Cambridge. Winterville will be the tallest club East Liverpool has faced since the opening game of the season against Mayfield Heights.

The streaking Potters now have added two tournament victories to their string which has reached eight straight.

BOTH TEAMS were sluggish in spots last night.

After the game, Chan said, "I am not making excuses, but we were a tired team. We played late Tuesday night and hadn't quite recovered from it."

Chan pointed out that he made a host of substitutions in an effort to keep fresh players in the game.

TUESDAY'S game at the Arena, in which the Potters defeated Wellsville in a close battle, was the last of a triple-header and didn't end until almost 11:30.

Coach John Pape's Toronto team was hampered by a knee injury suffered Tuesday by its star pivot man, Dick Symons.

The 6-5 junior wasn't quite himself as he couldn't move too well with the bad knee, but East Liverpool's zone defense did do an outstanding job in keeping him away from the board. Symons, who has been averaging 22 per game, was held to 11 by the Potters' defense. He got only 11 shots.

GUARD Darryl Herring helped break the game open with some spectacular shooting in the second quarter.

After battling to a 14-14 first quarter tie, Toronto scored the first two buckets of the second period for an 18-14 lead.

Herring then went to work and shattered Toronto's zone defense with six consecutive goals from near the end of the foul circle. The sixth came late in the period to put the Potters on top 34-26 at halftime.

Herring didn't score another field goal after the second period, but his flurry all but destroyed Toronto, which didn't come any closer than five points the rest of the way.

HERRING finished with 17 points to tie Vern Smith for scoring honors. Smith, after scoring only five points in the tournament opener against Wellsville, returned to his shooting form by turning in good first and fourth quarters.

He scored six points in the opening period, then came on strong in the final frame with eight to help protect the Potter lead.

Both teams turned in a cold third period, with East Liverpool scoring only six points and Toronto seven as the Potters held a 40-33 margin when the quarter ended.

TORONTO experienced a spell in the third quarter and early part of the fourth period when it tallied only three field goals in 10 minutes.

Next to Herring and Smith for the Potters was Chuck Winters with nine points. Dennis Smith added six. Winters led in the rebounding department with 10, while Vern Smith grabbed eight as the Potters held their own on the backboards.

DENNY LEASURE finished with 16 points for Toronto, but was almost unstoppable in the first period when he hit four straight.

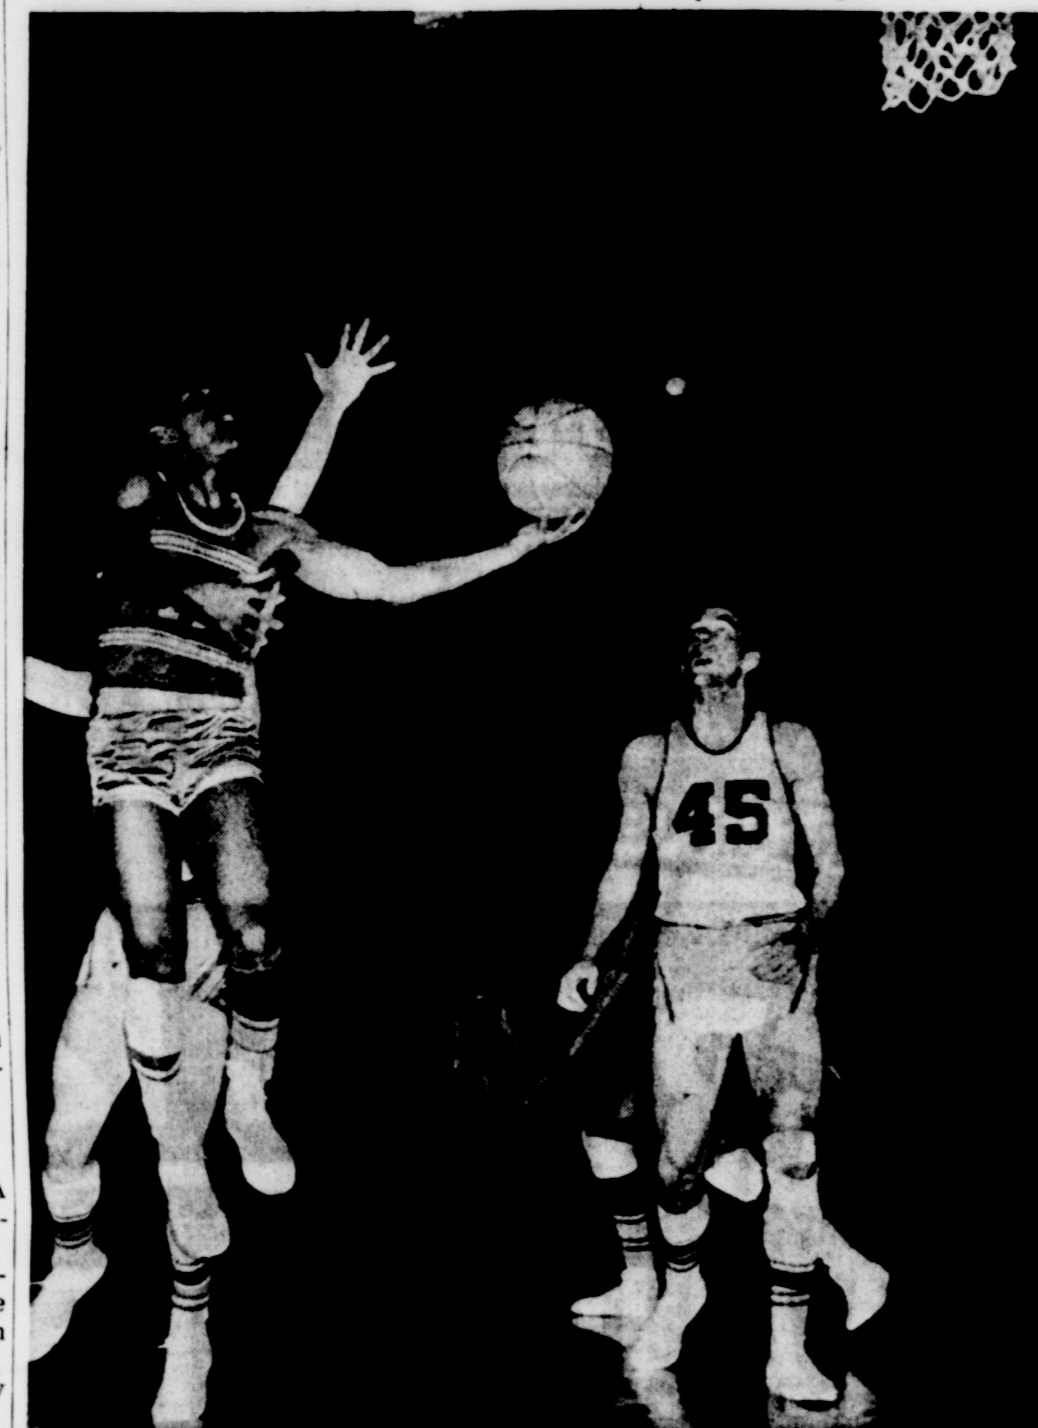

Before Leasure found the range, Toronto was trailing 12-3. The Toronto senior tallied eight successive points to put the Knights within one, 12-11, late in the opening quarter.

Both teams shot almost identical averages from the field. The Potters got more shots, hitting on 23 of 68 for 33 per cent, while Toronto took 48 shots and made 17 for 35 per cent.

EAST LIVERPOOL—55: Winters 3-3-9; V. Smith 8-14-17; J. Jones 1-0-0-2; Herring 7-3-4-17; D. Smith 3-0-0-6; Diddle 1-0-0-2; M. Jones 0-2-2-2; Christian 0-0-0-0. Totals 23-9-15-55.

TORONTO—45: G. Fisher 0-2-3-2; D. Leasure 6-4-11-6; Symons 4-3-4-11; L. Leasure 1-1-1-3; Allen 6-13-13. Totals 17-11-15-45.

THE SPARKPLUG of East Liverpool's attack Thursday night was guard Darryl Herring (13) shown driving for a basket as he puts the ball up with his left hand as Toronto's Dick Symons (45) watches the action.

Warriors Coast To Finals

STUEBENVILLE — Winterville, a finalist last year, coasted to the Sectional Class AA finals Thursday night by eliminating Steubenville Central, 68-53, in its first tournament appearance.

Top seeded with a 14-1 record, Winterville will now face East Liverpool for the championship Saturday night at the Community Arena.

The tall Warriors of Lee Patrone held a 17-13 first period lead last night then broke the game open with a 20-point second quarter that left them on top, 37-23.

Winterville continued the pace in the third quarter and was sitting on a 52-36 lead going into the fourth period.

The well balanced Warriors saw three starters in the double figures led by Rich Hastwell, 6-1 with 18 points while Dennis Peterson 6-6½ added 14 and Russ Dixon, 6-2, scored 12.

Winterville shot 39 per cent but showed a big edge in rebounds 41-19. Central hit on 34 per cent of its attempts.

Penn To Receive Answer By NCAA

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The University of Pennsylvania was to find out today whether the National Collegiate Athletic Association will allow it to represent the Ivy League in the NCAA basketball tournament.

Tournament Committee Chairman Bernie Shively said Thursday he had been assured that NCAA Executive Secretary Walter Byers would announce a decision today.

Shively added that he would announce any necessary tournament committee action after Byers' announcement.

Shively has waited three days to make final tournament arrangements, but the Penn controversy has held up action on his part. During that time, officials of the NCAA and other interested parties have conferred by telephone on numerous occasions.

Also, a meeting was held Thursday between Commissioner Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, of which the Ivy League schools are members, and Colgate University Athletic Director Everett Barnes, president of the NCAA.

It was learned that the Tournament Committee has been polled concerning the Penn controversy, and that Shively is ready to announce the committee's action as soon as Byers announces whether Penn will be eligible to participate.

The controversy revolves around a new NCAA rule which requires athletes to maintain a 1.6 academic standing. Many Eastern schools, including Penn, feel that it is necessary only to give verbal assurances that the standards are maintained.

The NCAA is asking for written information concerning grades.

Both Penn and Yale, as well as other Eastern schools, have refused flatly to give the NCAA the information it is asking for.

Clay-Terrell Fight Gets Another Boot In Canada

By The Associated Press
MONTREAL (AP) — The beleaguered Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell fight, kicked out of the United States, has lost the large Montreal Forum as a site and may wind up today in Verdun — a Montreal suburb — if it ever lands any place at all.

In the midst of a stormy meeting Thursday night between members of the Montreal Athletic Commission and the would-be promoters, a member of the commission said an official of the 15,000-seat Montreal Forum, had rejected the controversial fight.

"We'll take it to Verdun," said Robert Arum, a New York lawyer and an officer of Main Road Inc., of New York which owns the closed circuit television and other ancillary rights of the projected March 29 heavyweight title bout.

He said the fight could be staged in the 5,500-seat Verdun Auditorium in the Montreal suburb. He hoped to arrange that in conferences today, with Mayor George O'Reilly.

The commission member,

Paul Emile Sauvageau, told reporters at City Hall, the meeting place, that Frank Selke Jr., an official of the Canadian Arena Co., which owns the Forum, telephoned the commission to announce that the arena would not be available for the bout.

Reached at his home, Selke declined to confirm or deny the statement. He said anything further would have to come from the commission.

The commission, in a 200-word statement at the end of the meeting, said it is interested in having the fight but said MBI and promoter Loren Cassina of All-Canada Sports Ltd., would have to comply with five conditions "before the commission is able to study a request for a permit."

Conditions were that "everything must be in writing," including all contracts — the television-radio deal, the fighters' contracts with their managers and the promoters' agreements with the fighters."

One of the conditions the pro-motors object to is the Quebec law that provides the promoters must guarantee the commission five per cent of all receipts, including closed TV, radio, movies, and gate receipts. On a $4 million over-all promotion, this could come to $200,000.

The conditions stipulate that a $100,000 bond must be posted to guarantee the payment of the permit fee, namely five per cent of the live gate receipts and the radio and television rights."

Arum said it would take until Monday to get everything in black and white.

Before the Thursday night announcement, Selke had said that the Forum would be available to the fight because he had planned to show the closed circuit TV on March 29.

Verdun, outside of the Montreal commission's jurisdiction, doesn't have a boxing commission or a five per cent levy.

There was a strong belief here that some members of the Montreal Council were not enthusiastic about taking a fight that has been rejected by New York and Chicago.

Ron Williams Leads WVU In 7 Phases

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Ron Williams wound up this past basketball season as the second highest scoring sophomore in West Virginia University history.

But what is more significant is that the 6-foot-3 Weirton native led the Mountaineers in seven categories besides scoring.

Williams scored 552 points in 28 games for a 19.7 points-per-game average. His total is second only to Rod Hundley's 711 points in 30 games back in the 1954-55 season.

"Fritz," as his teammates call Williams, also led the team in assists, with 153, free throws attempted and made 162-118, field goals attempted and made, 490-217 and minutes played, 1005.

Although Dick Snyder of Davidson garnered most of the publicity at the recent Southern Conference tournament, National Basketball Association scouts also took notice of Williams.

Pepper Wilson, Cincinnati Royals general manager, said, "Williams, a magician of a floor man, is the best NBA bet from the Southern Conference although just a sophomore."

St. Louis Hawks coach Paul Seymour said, "Williams is the kind we can use right now. And Baltimore Bullets owner Arnie Heft chimed in, "Yep, I'd take Williams right now."

But the flashy guard didn't capture all the statistics titles on the team. Junior college transfer Carl Head and senior troubleshooter John Cavacini led in shooting accuracy.

Head sunk 144 field goal attempts in 270 tries for a 53.3 per cent rating. Cavacini made 83.9 per cent of his free throws, making 78 of 93 attempts.

Rebounding honors went to 6-foot-8 center Bob Benfield who sat out the latter part of the season with an ankle injury.

Midland To Meet Aliquippa Serbs In Tournament

The Warriors threw 6-foot-8 rookie forward Fred Hetzel against Chamberlain and the strategy seemed to be paying off for three quarters, as the Warriors pulled ahead by as much as nine points. The Warriors led 65-60 at the half.

But Chamberlain kept turning in on Hetzel, who eventually retired to the bench with five fouls. Then Wilt pulled the 76ers away in the final period.

Chamberlain hooped 26 field goals and 10 free throws. One of his goals was a tap-in on a jump ball.

Arkansas Helps SMU Gain NCAA

By The Associated Press
Southern Methodist won the Southwest Conference title and a berth in next week's NCAA college basketball championship tourney thanks to the Arkansas Razorbacks and their veteran coach, Glen Rose, in a story-book sequence of events.

This is how it happened on a Thursday night that also saw the idle Utah Redskins gain the Western Athletic Conference crown and its automatic NCAA berth when New Mexico whipped Arizona.

Rose, a star player for Arkansas in the late 1920s and coach of the Razorbacks for 33 years, was reported to have told his squad before the game with Texas A&M at Fayetteville, Ark., that he planned to retire.

The underdog fourth-place Porkers, seeking a big win for Rose in their final game of the season, then went out and routed the Aggies 94-71. Texas A&M went into the game tied for first with Southern Methodist and a Monday playoff site at Waco already had been selected.

Switch now to Dallas where SMU was playing at home against Texas Tech. Midway of the second half the Red Raiders led SMU 60-57 when word was received of Arkansas' surprise defeat of Texas A&M.

After the score was announced over the loud speaker system the aroused Mustangs reeled off seven straight points to take the lead for good thus wrapping up the SWC title and NCAA spot with a 99-89 triumph. It was SMU's 10th straight victory.

Rash Of Collisions

Cyclist, 23, Hurt In Local Mishap

A 23-year-old North Side man was injured late Thursday afternoon when his motorcycle struck the rear of an auto at a Klondyke intersection, police reported.

Gerald Lee Hughes of 927 Orchard Grove Ave. was treated at City Hospital for lacerations of the right leg and wrist following the collision at 4 p. m. at Harvey Ave. and Putnam St.

OFFICERS said Hughes' 1959 motorcycle collided with the rear of a 1961 model two-door sedan driven by Shirl W. Grimm Jr., 20, of 1801 Clark Ave., Wellsville, who was turning south off Harvey Ave. onto Putnam St.

The crash damaged the right rear of the auto and the front of the motorcycle. Grimm told Hughes to the hospital, where he was treated and released.

It was one of a series of five traffic mishaps reported Thursday afternoon and night by East Liverpool police.

A Beaver County motorist escaped injury, but was cited on a reckless driving charge after his auto, traveling at high speed on W. 3rd St., collided with a parked auto, police reported.

The 1965 sedan of Willie Davis, 28, of Freedom was east-bound on W. 3rd St. "at 60 miles an hour or better" when it struck a parked 1959 model station wagon owned by William Ferguson of 318 W. 3rd St., police said.

Patrolman Karl W. Samples, who investigated, said Davis reported he lost control of his car, struck a curb and then collided with the Ferguson car, which was parked about 100 feet east of Jefferson St.

The mishap was timed at 10:56 p. m. There was damage to the right front bumper of Davis' car and the left rear bumper of the Ferguson auto. Samples said Davis' car skidded along the curb about 40 feet before striking the Ferguson vehicle.

Davis, pleading guilty today on the reckless driving charge, was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Cheroff. The judge indicated part of the fine will be suspended if Davis makes arrangements to

Partial Payment Acceptable In St. Clair Ave. Assessment

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson said today they will accept partial payments from St. Clair Ave. residents who owe assessments for the rebuilding of the thoroughfare from Princeton Ave. to the north city limits.

Zollinger said the partial cash payments will be accepted up to the deadline March 14 although the assessing ordinance gave the property owners only two alternatives — payment in full in cash or in 10 annual installments, plus interest, on the tax duplicate.

Notices of assessment were mailed on Feb. 12 to 139 property owners. Only 14 have paid in full to date. The charge is $10 per front foot, the amount specified in a petition signed by persons representing the bulk of the frontage. The assessing ordinance was enacted on Feb. 7.

In making a partial payment of a quarter or a half of the entire assessment, the property owners will cut substantially the amounts which they must pay in annual installments after the unpaid charges are certified to County Auditor Kenneth Bell, Zollinger explained.

"Some of the assessments are pretty high for a person of average income and a result they could prove to be a burden if paid annually," Zollinger said. "I want to advise the public that I will let them pay part of the amount due up till the deadline March 14, thereby reducing the annual payments in the future."

"For instance, if the assessment is $600 and the property owner wishes to pay $300, only $300 would be certified to the county auditor for future payment," Zollinger said. He said he will voluntarily make a balance computation showing the balance owed by the householder and the annual payments.

A 40-foot lot would lead to a $400 assessment, payable at $40 a year for 10 years, plus interest. If $200 is paid now, the annual payment would be only $24.05, Zollinger said.

Zollinger said it would be preferable for the property owners to pay some even fraction of the amount due, such as a quarter or a half of the total. In that way, the new computation of the total due and the installments will be simplified, he said.

The notices of assessment which the property owners received listed the overall amount due and the amount of the annual installments if the total was not paid in cash.

Man Suffers Cut Arm In Tumble On Dishes

A 31-year-old East Liverpool man suffered a severe cut on the upper right arm Thursday night when he dropped a stack of dishes and then fell onto the broken pieces of ware, police reported.

Samuel Hampton of McKee St. was taken to City Hospital in a cruiser for treatment following the mishap at his home about 8:30 p. m.

Patrolman Karl W. Samples, who took the injured man to the hospital, said Mrs. Hampton reported her husband was helping her with the dishes. He was carrying a stack of ware when he tripped over a pair of shoes lying on the floor, she said. Hampton dropped the dishes, which shattered, and then fell onto the shards, cutting himself, she related.

Use kitchen tongs to lift whole cooked vegetables onto serving tray for easier arranging of them without breaking.

$8 Million More Stated For Ohio Welfare Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An additional $8 million in federal funds to assist about 298,000 of the state's public welfare recipients is being earmarked in plans announced Thursday by Welfare Director Denver White.

An improved medical program is expected to include dependent children, those receiving aid for the aged, disabled persons and blind. White estimated that of the $8 million expected, about $5.5 million would be needed to improve care, particularly in the aid for the aged category.

White said the plan now is under consideration by Washington officials. He said Ohio's welfare reorganization by the last Legislature, placing public assistance under county administration July 1, put the state in position to qualify for the new program.

"Approval of the state plan would mean that Ohio would receive federal reimbursement for a large part of its medical program which is not now subject to federal matching," White said. "Department officials estimate that the state will earn about $8 million more in federal funds during fiscal 1967, ending July 30 of that year."

There were 2,661 meals served at the jail during February, costing $1,123.82, for an average daily cost of $1.27 per prisoner. The sheriff also reported that 258 papers were served and 4,938 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,071 phone calls at the jail. There were 166 visitors at the jail during February.

Empire Youth Badly Injured In Car Crash

A 20-year-old Empire youth was injured seriously Thursday night when he lost control of his 1965 auto and it crashed into an embankment on the John Kennedy Highway near Toronto.

John Federstill was admitted to the Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville with a possible fractured skull and pelvis following the crash about 9 p. m.

The Winterville barracks of the State Highway Patrol said Federstill was headed east over a hill crest and into a left curve when he lost control. The car went off the right side of the road, ran over some small pine trees owned by Joe Sapp of Toronto R. D. 2 and then crossed back across the highway and hit the embankment.

The accident still is under investigation. The Kennedy highway runs from Toronto to the junction with Route 152 and the crash was about a mile east of Route 152, the patrol said.

Municipal Court revenue hit $3,480 in February, down $1,476 from January's $4,956. It was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The city received $3,174 from last month's receipts, a decline of $1,194 from the $4,368 it was paid out of January revenue.

A drop of more than $1,000 in receipts in criminal cases accounted for the decline in the overall revenue.

The city's share was made up of $414 in costs from civil cases, $2,636 in fines, costs and forfeitures from criminal actions and $122 in penalties from State Highway Patrol cases. The January criminal receipts hit $3,709.

The total amount handled by the court in February was $6,215, off $2,991 from the $9,206 recorded in January. The sums handled last month included $2,795 in the civil branch and $3,420 in the criminal branch.

Junior Editors Quiz on CARTOONS

QUESTION: How are newspaper cartoons made?

ANSWER: Cartoons are drawn with few lines and are usually funny, as these points make them stand out and catch your eye. There is always some idea in them which will entertain or interest you. Say, in (1) a cartoonist is drawing one of a continued series of comic strips, which he calls "Moddie the Mop." Moddie has grown so real to him that he can almost see his little character crouching on top of his drawing board. But he must get an idea about Moddie. Where do ideas come from? Often from something that's happened in real life; and often, as in this case, by simply using imagination. The cartoonist sketches his strip down on a large piece of paper, and then goes over the pencil lines with black ink, using pen or brush. With a week's strips finished, he delivers them to the editor of the paper where they are appearing (2). Here they are photographed, reducing them to the proper size, and metals cuts are made, which will go onto roller from which the newspapers are printed. Soon (3) you will be reading about Moddie's latest prank, like hiding a small record player in his guitar, and giving the appearance of producing the music himself. But when this deception is discovered—well you'll have to look at the next paper to see what happens!

FOR YOU TO DO: Get a bit of paper, draw four squares on it, and see if you can work out a comic situation in it. For an actor, use yourself. Don't worry if you can't draw well—just try to make it funny!

Kim Spencer of Urbans, Ill., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, March 4, the 63rd day of 1966. There are 302 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1789, the first federal Congress under the present Constitution met in New York in the hall which stood at the corner of Broad and Wall streets in New York.

On this date

In 1681, William Penn received a grant for lands lying north of Maryland west of the Delaware River which became the State of Pennsylvania.

In 1791, Vermont, the 14th state, entered the union.

In 1933, Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated as president.

In 1943, American forces defeated the Japanese in the Battle of the Bismarck Sea.

Ten years ago—Pope Pius XII warned all nations against the lure of what he called insidious peace overtures by the Communist Congress in Moscow.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy announced he had named his brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver, as Peace Corps director.

One year ago — Nearly 2,000 students, mostly Asians, attacked the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in protest against American Viet Nam policy.

Reaches 900 Million People Daily

AP Stresses Expanding News Beat

NEW YORK (AP) — Associated Press news reaches more than 900 million people daily, Wes Gallagher, general manager, said today.

In his annual report to Associated Press members, Gallagher pointed out that even with three million words moving on Associated Press wires every 24 hours it is difficult to cope with the ever increasing flood of news.

"As the world grows more complex and more sophisticated it develops more problems and more news," Gallagher said.

"This explosion of news places the editor in the same position as the college president who must try to compress and design teaching to produce not only the specialist but the well rounded student as well."

COVERAGE OF the world's news is no easy task, said Gallagher, who noted that AP newsmen undergo physical dangers regularly. Two Associated Press photographers lost their lives this past year in Viet Nam.

Other aspects of the general manager's report include: What The AP is doing to step up its coverage of the expanding war in Viet Nam, how AP photographers are beating the problem of cliché pictures, and the technological advances around the world that are speeding news and pictures to more than 900 million people.

Gallagher outlined these actions taken by The AP to meet the challenge of the news explosion:

"A task force of specialists was set up to report, edit and photograph racial developments. These staff men, well backgrounded in their field, will go into any area where their experience will be helpful for better understanding of the news."

"Another task force of writers was named as a mobile emergency force to be assigned to enterprise projects connected with the spot news."

Investigations Conducted

Harassing Calls To Wives Of GIs In Viet 'Slight'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigations by all the armed services have failed to turn up evidence of widespread harassing calls to wives and other dependents of U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam.

The Defense Department said today "it has been found that the incidences of such calls are slight."

Most of these calls have occurred in the 3rd Army area, with a scattering in the New York, Philadelphia, and Ft. Campbell, Ky., areas, the Pentagon said.

The 3rd Army encompasses North Carolina and South Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Georgia. There is a fairly heavy concentration of military installations in this area, with many wives living near military posts while their husbands are overseas.

"Although it has been reported in speculative pieces that this is an organized thing," the Pentagon said, "thus far there is no evidence to support this."

The department was asked about the situation after there were reports from Ft. Bragg, N.C., that many wives of servicemen serving overseas are getting obscene or threatening phone calls.

There have been other reports of such harassment of wives of Navy men who served aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk in the Viet Nam area.

The Pentagon said that all the services began investigating the situation after a newspaper story appeared on the calls to wives of Kitty Hawk crewmen.

"The most disconcerting type of call has been someone saying that a person in Viet Nam has been killed, wounded, or captured," the Pentagon said.

"The calls primarily fall into the crank category, with the caller unidentified and generally showing no fixed pattern of comments," it added.

Local commanders "have taken necessary action to warn dependents of personnel departing for Viet Nam that this might occur," the Defense Department said.

It took the position that the cases fall into local or national law enforcement jurisdictions outside the military service.

Assignment of specialists. The necessity for translating jargon and technical detail into meaningful language for the layman increases. And to the list of science, aerospace, education, religion and other standard areas, we have added in the past year intensified coverage of consumer interests.

"New fields of reporting have been entered ranging from explaining how big government works in a democracy to taking a low-brow look at high-brow society from Cannes to Palm Beach."

AMONG THE technical advances:

Creation of a new communications department under Asst. General Manager Dan De Luca as a planning instrument to explore the potentials in the satellite age and to apply new communications developments as rapidly as possible to the worldwide system of The AP.

Automatic Wirephoto, a fully automatic photo process, was introduced and more than 150 members in the United States, Canada and Europe signed up for it.

A 24-hour leased circuit connecting the cable desk in New York with The AP bureau in Saigon vastly improved communications to and from Viet Nam.

A new technical center, staffed by Associated Press engineering and maintenance specialists, was created in St. Louis, Mo., to work with staff technicians in the field and with newspaper production executives.

The two AP photographers killed in Viet Nam were Bernard J. Kolbenberg, on leave from the Albany (N.Y.) Times-Union, and Huyn Thanh My, a Vietnamese national who had previously been wounded.

"Their deaths brought to nine the number of Associated Press men killed since the Spanish Civil War. Other correspondents have been killed in the Viet Nam conflict, and other Associated Press men have been wounded there," Gallagher said.

AS AMERICAN forces in Viet Nam were built up, so was the staff of The AP assigned to cover the war. By the end of the year it had grown to 30 newsmen, divided equally between nationals of Viet Nam and Associated Press men assigned from the United States and abroad.

Gallagher said The AP had gained 28 newspaper members during 1965 and the Wirephoto network had gained 31 more subscribers. Gains in newspaper membership were the greatest for any year since the end of World War II. The number of new subscribers to Wirephoto represented the largest increase in eight years.

Gallagher said The AP had 2,780 broadcasters as members at the end of 1965, a high and a net increase of 57 stations over 1964.

Last year three AP Newsfeatures special projects offered to readers through member newspapers brought sales of more than 145,000 copies.

In the book field, nearly 100,000 copies of the first AP news annual, "The World in 1964," were distributed through AP member newspapers to their readers. Many members also provided copies for schools and libraries.

Gallagher said a new version, "The World in 1965," is being offered to the public through 450 member newspapers in 1966.

Prosecutor's Return Due To Decide Charge

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — The return of Hancock County Prosecutor Richard J. Rinebolt next week from an out-of-town trip is awaited before it is decided whether Arthur Dodge, 22, of North Baltimore, will be charged with murdering his estranged wife here.

Mrs. Carole Dodge, 23, died in a Lima Hospital Wednesday night after being wounded Tuesday when her mother, Mrs. Marian Iliff, 45, was shot fatally. Dodge is charged with first-degree murder in his mother-in-law's death.
